Ski Nationals 2007

Chandra Crawford at the starting line

Quebec, March 22nd 2007 – The Torino Olympic gold medalist, Chandra Crawford, will offer her first performance at the Ski Nationals 2007 at the Mont Sainte-Anne. Her first race will take place tomorrow, March 23rd, for the individual Sprint races.

After sustained efforts and exceptional results obtained during yesterday's competitions, Wednesday the 21st, athletes were entitled to have some rest today. The day was dedicated to official training.

In spite of the freezing rain that fell on the Mont Sainte-Anne, the track conditions were acceptable. Hopefully, the warm weather and the rain predicted for the upcoming days will not complicate the conditions, but up until now, competitions are still under way.

Official competitions will be back on Friday the 23rd with the individual Sprint races. The qualifications will start at 10 o'clock. Alex Harvey, Dasha Gaïazova and Milaine Thériault will be at the starting line.
